Redfield, IA Comprehensive Plan – Planning for the Future of Redfield

We want to hear from you!

Redfield is planning for the future and we need your help! We are working on a Comprehensive Plan that will guide our city's growth and development for the next 20 years. The plan will cover important topics such as Land Use, Housing, Parks and Recreation, Economic Development, Community Character, and much more. We want to hear from you about your vision and preferences for Redfield. You can share your opinions by visiting our project website and taking our community survey. The website will also keep you informed about the progress of the plan and the opportunities to get involved. Please check out the links below and let us know what you think!
