Redfield Clinic News

Medicare Drug Prices reduced: Medicare is beginning to reduce some drug costs for Medicare recipients, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act signed into law by President Biden in August 2022. Under that law the cost of Medicare covered insulin is capped at $35 per month, out of pocket costs for most vaccines under Medicare are eliminated and beginning in 2025 an annual $2,000 limit is placed on how much Medicare Part D patients pay for their prescription medications. In addition the Inflation Reduction Act allows Medicare to negotiate the prices for some high cost prescription drugs beginning in 2026. And it puts tax penalties on drug makers that increase their drug prices greater than the rate of inflation. According to polls most Medicare recipients are unaware of these cost savings. Remember the cost of drug plans can vary widely just as the coverage of the plans varies considerably. Or one can google Medicare.gov or consult a trusted insurance agent. Help from the SHIP counselors is free and confidential.

Shingles vaccination: Fewer than half of people over 65 years of age have received their Shingles immunizations. It is indicated for everyone older than 50. The Shingles vaccination is covered by most insurance. The inflation Reduction Act has ensured shingles vaccination insurance coverage for virtually all of us over 65 – as well as other immunizations for seniors. The Shingles shot are 95% effective in preventing the disease, if one get the initial vaccination and the booster 2 months later. These are available through most pharmacies.

Unfortunately, one of three of us seniors will get shingles. And we can get it more than once. Most of us know someone who suffered from a Shingles attack. It presents as a painful patch on one side of the body that blisters in about 2-3 days. It is best treated within 48 hours of presentation with an antiviral medication. But since it can cause severe pain for months or even years afterwards, prevention is best. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

COVID Booster Vaccinations: The latest wave of COVID is upon us. The most recent COVID vaccinations were approved by the Federal Drug Administration (FDA) last week. These are recommended by the experts and available at most pharmacies.

Health Insurance Help: There is help with finding an affordable health insurance plan for those 50 to 64 years of age. For those in that age group who obtain their health insurance from the Affordable Care Act (Obama Care) Marketplace, as extended by the 2022 Inflation Reduction Act, the average premium savings is more than $950 per year. And the cost of those premiums is limited to no more than 8.5% of one's annual income.

Redfield Library Meeting

Submitted by Leslie Wiles

Call Meeting to Order: Monday, July 1, 2024, 5:03 pm

Trustees: Martha Bosomworth, Obie Meyers, Leslie Wiles, and Pauletta Cox

Library staff: Lori Stonehocker

Visitors: Wade Reed, Pam Danielson, Shirley Ganoe

Public Comment:

Mayor Reed addressed the Board about a letter that he had received from Erika Eckley from the IPIB concerning an alleged violation of Iowa Code 21.5 during the Library Board's June meeting by some of the Trustees. He asked the Board to address the matter in a timely manner.

Agenda of July Meeting: Approved unanimously.

VI. June Meeting Minutes: Approved unanimously.

Amendment= Add the Closed Meeting which occurred before the regular Redfield Library Open Meeting took place on June 3.

V. Financial Report: Approved unanimously.

New treasurer Cox presented the library closing financials for the end of fiscal year 2024 which ended June 30. She presented the new fiscal year's situation and the concern that not all of the library's past bills had been paid because of the financial deficit and that book money had to be shifted to pay the Librarian's June salary. Because of the past year's financial shortfalls and the upcoming year's financial situation, Cox suggested the Trustees and Librarian implement a new financial policy.

VI. Librarian's Report:

Librarian Stonehocker presented that book circulation and audio book use had increased. The summer programs were going well. She presented a calendar with tally marks of attendance numbers for library visits, monthly book club, chair yoga, and summer program. The past policy has been to charge patrons to use the copy machine 25 cents a page for black print and 50 cent for colored print.

VII. Old Business

* Strategic Plan:

Discussion: A number of things need to be done to successfully implement the Strategic Plan launched in 2022. This Plan was created in 2021 with community input and is to be reviewed quarterly.

Examples of strategic plan items that have been implemented: using media to communicate library events and hosting guest speakers.

Examples of the strategic plan that needs to be done: community surveys, writing grants, fundraising activities, visiting other libraries and networking with other librarians, teen activities, etc.

*Online catalog:

Discussion: Librarian Stonehocker is to develop an implementation plan for the Apollo system when it's installed and present that plan to the Board. Trustees discussed how nice it will be for the community to have an online catalog to see what resources are available at the library and an online catalog is necessary for the library to be an accredited library.

* Resolution 2024-1:

Discussion: The library trust/savings account and paperwork has been sent to the city attorney. This is pending the attorney's review.

* Finance policy:

Discussion: Brainstorming ideas for mapping out a new budget plan and amending library hours to work within the library's budget for this fiscal year.

*Library Hours Overages:

Discussion: How can we change up the library hours to better meet the needs of our community? Do working people need the library to be

Gardening Tips for September in Zone 5 (Redfield)

Submitted by Bill Hotchkis (Master Gardener) & Janell Ketelsen (Master Gardener)

I feel like a broken record, reporting that we are in the midst of another heat wave of temperatures in the upper 90 degrees, with heat indexes in the triple figures. It makes it difficult to go outside to work in the garden, not to mention the risk to one's health working in these temperatures. Protect yourself by working in the early morning (when the temperatures are lower), dress for the weather (wide brim hat, sunscreen, long sleeves) and stay hydrated (drink plenty of water).

The garden still needs your attention. Weeds need to be pulled, and tomato plants need to be supported as they continue to produce fruit. Peppers, tomatoes, zucchini, eggplant, and melons need to be picked for our enjoyment. Monitor your apple and pear trees for fruit that is getting ripe. There will soon be an abundance of these fruits soon. Pick up dead fall apples and pears to reduce disease pressures (put them in your compost bins).

Continue to keep others in mind when you find that your garden has a bountiful harvest. The sweet corn season is over and now our family is getting ready to take apples to deliver to one of the food banks (Waukee Area Christian Services) that has come to Redfield. If you find you have extra fresh produce, consider donating it so others can enjoy it as well. You can always bring your surplus produce to our Redfield City Hall to be distributed to those who would appreciate adding fresh produce to their diet.

There are still plenty of chores to do as the season progresses

Gardening "To Do" Tips by Month for Redfield, IA

September:

Some crops are ready to be planted once again. These would be cool weather crops that will thrive in the cool weather this fall. Here are examples of what to plant:

- Spinach
- Chard
- Lettuce
- Radishes

Control weeds before they go to seed. Do not throw the pulled weeds into the compost bin as the seeds will survive and once the compost is used, you will reseed these plants into the garden beds.

It will be time to bring in plants that you want to keep. Here are examples:

- Geraniums
- Miniature roses
- Basil
- Parsley

Fall is the best time to divide perennials. To reduce transplant shock, prepare the new planting site before dividing your plants

Harvest second planting of cool season crops

Weed strawberry beds. Like gardeners, they do not like weeds

September/October is a good time to amend your soil. Add leaves and or compost to increase the organic material in your soil. Save wood ashes, this will increase the phosphorus, potassium, and calcium in your soil. Use these ashes in your vegetable gardens and flower beds.

Storing Veggies:

Gourds, summer squash, and pumpkins should be harvested before the first frost, pumpkins continue to ripen after harvest

Handle everything carefully so as not to bruise or nick the skins

Dig potatoes now that the above ground portion of the plant has dried up.

The Raccoon River Valley Trail at the Redfield Depot

Submitted by Louise Kipping

August has seen bicyclists rolling past the Depot in an interesting variety of weather! As fall approaches it is a good time to get the last summer rides in. Some riders are finding bonuses along the way - apples and berries! The cooler weather and color changes along the trail will be another bonus of using the trail in the fall.

We had several riders who had already tried the new High Trestle Trail Extension between Perry and Woodward which was officially opened on Saturday, August 17th. It is 9 miles long and joins together the Raccoon River Valley Trail and the High Trestle Trail. We are so fortunate here in Redfield to be a part of this great trail system.

We will be open at the depot through September and October, but reducing the time we are open - from 10am to 2pm on each Saturday and Sunday. Join in either as a depot volunteer or a trail user yourself by foot or by wheels.

Redfield Library Meeting

open later on some evenings? Should we have more variety in the library hours for people? With the budget cutbacks, should we cut back on library hours to help meet the budget? Tentative solution: new library hours. Monday and Wednesday 2:00 - 7:00, Tuesday and Friday 10:00 - 4:00, Saturday 10:00 - noon.

Motion: Approve new library hours. Approved unanimously.

*Mahjong:

Discussion: Amber Baker had presented at the June meeting that she would teach Mahjong to anyone who wanted to learn the game. The days she is at the library from 5:00 - 7:00 are July 22, July 29, August 7, and August 12. All are welcome to attend on any day.

*Volunteer Policy:

Discussion: Trustee Cox distributed information on a volunteer policy for the board to review for the next meeting. The need to implement a volunteer program was discussed as a way to help cut costs for the future. Trustee Meyers asked whether volunteers should be vetted with a background check for safety purposes or if that was necessary and what was the cost. Cox volunteered to check with the sheriff's department on that topic. Discussion was tabled until the next meeting.

VIII. New Business

*Resignations: Cristin Lantz and Lynne Baldwin submitted resignations on June 4 and were accepted.

*Trustee Application:

Discussion: The application has been sent to the city attorney for his review and we are waiting on his response. The need for new, updated trustee handbooks and procedures were discussed. Cox volunteered to work on a new trustee orientation.

Motion: Create new Trustee handbook. Approved unanimously.

*Evaluation of Librarian:

Discussion: Trustee Wiles distributed an evaluation form to be reviewed by the Trustees. It is based on the Librarian's job description that she has had for 24 years so she would be familiar with the expectations of the evaluation for this year. The need for the Board to develop a new evaluation form and librarian job description was discussed.

Motion: Trustees will review the evaluation and evaluate the Librarian the next meeting, unless there is an issue. Approved unanimously.

* IPIB presentation :

Discussion: When Erika Eckley from the Iowa Public Information Board could come and address the Board concerning Iowa Code 21.5. Librarian Stonehocker will contact Eckley to see when she can come.

*Committees: Trustee Cox distributed information about proposed committees for the Trustees to review and discuss at the next meeting. Committees listed were Executive/Personnel, Finance, Library Access/Collections, Marketing/Outreach.

* Collections Policy: Discussion that our collection policy needs updating as soon as possible.

Meeting Adjourned: 7:27 pm. NEXT MEETING - Monday August 5, 2024 5:00 P.M.
